Background: Washington has a motor vehicle lemon law, which requires a motor vehicle manufacturer to replace or repurchase a nonconforming new motor vehicle if the manufacturer is unable to correct the nonconformity after a reasonable number of attempts.

Other than implied warranties under the Uniform Commercial Code, there is no law which warrants new motorized wheelchairs. There is currently one state, Wisconsin, with a motorized wheelchair lemon law.

Summary of Bill: Motorized wheelchair manufacturers are required to furnish at least a one year express warranty to motorized wheelchair consumers. If a manufacturer fails to provide a one year warranty, the motorized wheelchair is covered by an implied warranty. After a reasonable attempt to repair a nonconforming wheelchair, the manufacturer must either replace or refund the nonconforming new motorized wheelchair. A refund of the motorized wheelchair includes the full purchase price plus finance charges, amount paid by the consumer at the point of sale, and collateral costs, less a reasonable allowance for use. A "reasonable attempt to repair" means either four or more attempts to correct a nonconformity or the motorized wheelchair is out of service for 30 days because of a nonconformity. The reasonable attempt to repair must occur within the warranty period or within one year of delivery of the motorized wheelchair. "Nonconformity" means a condition or defect covered by an express warranty that substantially impairs the use, value, or safety of a motorized wheelchair.

Fiscal Note: Requested February 22, 1993.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.
