Background: The Community Economic Revitalization Board (CERB) program was created by the Legislature in 1982 to provide loans or grants to counties, cities, and ports for economic development-related infrastructure. The loan or grant must be necessary to bring an identified business or development into the community.

The CERB program was expanded in 1991 to provide funds for feasibility studies and public infrastructure projects that support industrial and tourism development in timber-impacted communities. In addition, there is a Department of Transportation/CERB grant program which supports state highway improvement projects.

Fifty percent of CERB funds are required to go to projects in designated distressed or timber-dependent communities.

CERB expires on June 30, 1993.

Summary of Bill: The expiration date of the statute authorizing CERB is extended indefinitely. The board must report to the Legislature by June 30, 1999, on the effectiveness of the CERB program. This report must include a recommendation on whether CERB should be continued, modified, or terminated.

The board is directed to forward a copy of any application for financial assistance to encourage the development of a recycling facility to the Department of Ecology and to notify the department of any decision regarding the application. The protections under the Public Records Act are extended to proprietary information submitted in an application for CERB loans or program services.

The board must report to the Legislature every two years.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed, except for section 7 which is effective immediately.

Testimony For: (Trade, Economic Development & Housing) CERB is an effective program that enables local governments to provide the infrastructure necessary for businesses to locate or expand. CERB has created or retained nearly 11,000 full-time, direct jobs since its inception 10 years ago. The program has been a key part of assistance to timber communities.

(Capital Budget) CERB has been an effective catalyst for local economic development efforts. The Legislative Budget Committee recommended that CERB be continued.

Testimony Against: (Trade, Economic Development & Housing) None.

(Capital Budget) None.

Witnesses: (Trade, Economic Development & Housing) Robert Cowan, Community Economic Revitalization Board (pro); George Rohrbacher, Klickitat Economic Development Council (pro); and Scott Taylor, Washington Public Ports Association (pro).

(Capital Budget) Robert Cowan, Community Economic Revitalization Board (pro); Donna Batch, Department of Trade and Economic Development (pro); Wendy Paulin, Port of Centralia (pro); and Scott Taylor, Washington Public Ports Association (pro).
