Prior to 1994, all hunters under the age of 14 were required to be accompanied by a parent, guardian, safety instructor, or other approved adult when they were in possession of a firearm for the purposes of hunting or target practice. Today, there is no minimum age requirement for a hunting license or for enrollment in a hunter's education course.

Summary of Engrossed Substitute Bill:

All hunters under the age of 14 must be accompanied by a person over the age of 18 when hunting for wild birds and animals. The accompanying adult hunter must stay within a range that permits continual unaided visual and auditory communication. The accompanying adult must have completed a hunting training course, or not be required to complete a hunting training course because of his or her age.

It is a civil natural resources infraction for a person under the age of 14 to hunt without an adult companion.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) There are mixed reactions in the hunting community, but there is a consensus that age 14 is an appropriate age to allow solo hunting. Many in the hunting community already operate under the assumption that you must be at least 14 to hunt alone. This is a prudent and responsible measure. Youth hunters who are supervised by an adult are safer hunters. Hunting is generally a safe activity, but the rare unfortunate incident can cast a negative light.

(With concerns) Age 16 is a more appropriate age to allow unaccompanied hunting. Proper judgment does not typically develop in a youth until after the age of 14.

(Opposed) None.

Persons Testifying: (In support) Representative Blake, prime sponsor; Mike Cenci, Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife; and Ed Owens, Hunters Heritage Council.

(With concerns) Jonathan Guzzo, Washington Trails Association.
