Background: Public assistance recipients who get off and stay off assistance typically enter employment in the private sector. Current efforts to increase a public/private partnership in moving public assistance recipients to financial independence can reduce public sector expenditures, increase revenues through productive employment, and improve the lives of former recipients of public assistance.

Summary of Bill: The Department of Social and Health Services will establish a voluntary wage supplementation program where aid to families with dependent children grants are used to supplement wages paid to recipients by private employers. Recipients must be paid at least $5.00 per hour and receive the same benefits provided to other workers. Local employment councils will assist in the implementation of pilot projects to match aid to families with dependent children recipients with employers. Training wages may be paid if permitted by federal law. The Department of Social and Health Services will administer the program and will contract with local nonprofit organizations to carry it out.

Fiscal Note: Requested January 25, 1994.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.
