Staff: Chris Cordes (786-7117).

Background: A person may not engage in plumbing work unless he or she has a certificate of competency, a temporary permit, or a training certificate. The Department of Labor and Industries assesses certification fees that are deposited in the plumbing certification fund.

Each day that a person engages in plumbing work without the required certificate or permit is a separate infraction. Persons who have committed infractions are subject to a $100 penalty. Citations for infractions of the plumbing certificate requirements are issued by the department and enforced in district court.

Summary of Bill: The Department of Labor and Industries must establish a pilot project in which it will enter into an agreement with a city to permit enforcement of the plumbing certificates of competency laws. The pilot project will be in Eastern Washington. Under the agreement, the city will submit declarations of noncompliance to the department for the department's enforcement action, with reimbursement to the city at an established fee.

A person may not offer to engage in the plumbing trade unless he or she has a certificate of competency or other required certificate or permit. No contractor may employ a person in the plumbing trade unless the person has the required certificate or permit, but this requirement does not apply to a contractor who is contracting for work on his or her own residence.

Infractions may be issued to a contractor who employs, or a contractor's employee who authorized the work assignment of, a person who is working in the plumbing trade without the required certificate or permit. The contractor or contractor's employee is subject to an infraction for each day that a person is employed in plumbing work without the required certificate or permit.

A contractor is a person engaged in work covered by the chapters on plumbing certificates, electrical licensing and contractor registration.

The minimum penalty for a violation of the plumbing certificate of competency requirements is increased from $100 to $250 for the first infraction, and no more than $1,000 for a second or subsequent infraction. The department is required to adopt a schedule of penalties.

Infractions will be enforced in an administrative hearing with an administrative law judge. Penalties collected will be deposited in the plumbing certificate fund.

Fiscal Note: Requested January 25, 1994.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect on July 1, 1994.

Testimony For: (Commerce & Labor) The Department of Labor and Industries' resources are very limited. Having the local jurisdictions check for certificate compliance when they are enforcing the plumbing code requirements is a good way to increase enforcement potential. Employers should also be subject to infractions for hiring persons to do plumbing work who do not have the required certificate.
