Background: Fetal alcohol syndrome is the third leading cause of mental retardation in the United States. Approximately 145 babies are born in Washington each year with fetal alcohol syndrome.

Summary of Bill: The Liquor Control Board is required to post in a conspicuous place within each state liquor store a notice in at least one-inch print warning persons that consumption of alcohol shortly before conception or during pregnancy may cause birth defects, including fetal alcohol syndrome and fetal alcohol effects.

The secretary of the Department of Social and Health Services, through the Division of Alcohol and Substance Abuse, shall develop and promote statewide secondary prevention strategies designed to increase the use of alcohol and drug treatment services by women of childbearing age, before, during, and immediately after pregnancy.

The new program shall include the development of three pilot "pretreatment" projects for women of childbearing age. Two of the projects will be located in public health department clinics that provide maternity services and one in a domestic violence program. The secretary is authorized to hire three certified chemical dependency counselors to work in the three projects. The chemical dependency counselor for the Domestic Violence Program shall also be trained in domestic violence issues.

The duties and activities of the counselors shall include: (1) identifying substance-using pregnant women in the pretreatment projects; (2) educating the women and agency staff on the health effects of alcohol and drugs; (3) determining the extent of the women's substance use; (4) evaluating the need for treatment; (5) making referrals for chemical dependency treatment if indicated; (6) facilitating the women's entry into treatment; and (7) advocating on the client's behalf with other social service agencies or others to coordinate clients into treatment.

The secretary is required to ensure that administrative costs of the department are limited to 10 percent of the funds appropriated for the project. The sections of the bill providing for secondary prevention strategies administered by the secretary of the Department of Social and Health Services is null and void if funding is not provided for these purposes in the 1993-95 state budget.

Fiscal Note: Requested March 1, 1993.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Testimony For: (Commerce & Labor - original bill): Fetal alcohol syndrome is a very serious problem. This is nothing more than a good first step toward addressing the problem. The Liquor Control Board can administer the bill as long as the money is provided.
