House Committee on Revenue
Senate Committee on Ways & Means

Background: The state retail sales tax applies to the sale to consumers of most goods and many services. The state tax rate is 6.5 percent of the selling price. Local governments may levy additional sales taxes. The average local sales tax rate is 1.5 percent. The sales tax is paid by the purchaser and collected by the seller.

Taxable services include construction, repair, automobile parking and storage, telephone services, some recreation and amusement services, and services provided by abstract, title insurance, escrow, and credit bureau businesses. In 1993, the Legislature added several categories of services to the sales tax including: coin-operated laundry facilities in apartment houses, hotels, trailer camps, and tourist camps; landscape maintenance and horticultural services other than horticultural services provided to farmers; service charges associated with tickets to professional sporting events; guided tours and guided charters; physical fitness services; tanning salon services; tattoo parlor services; massage services; steam bath services; turkish bath services; escort services; dating services; and the rental of equipment with an operator.

Physical fitness services, which are subject to sales tax, include activities such as weight lifting, running tracks, exercise equipment, aerobics classes, and personal trainers. A sales tax exemption has existed since 1981 for sales of amusement and recreation services by a nonprofit youth organization to its members. However, this exemption is limited to "amusement and recreation" activities and does not cover physical fitness activities. This exemption does not cover sales of amusement and recreation services by a government agency.

Summary: The sales tax exemption for amusement and recreational services sold by nonprofit youth organizations is expanded to include physical fitness services. A sales tax exemption is created for physical fitness classes provided by a local government.
