Background: The real estate excise tax is paid when real property is sold. The tax rate is 1.28 percent of the selling price. Most local governments impose an added rate of 0.25 percent. Additional local options are available.

Both the buyer and the seller are required to sign a real estate excise tax affidavit when a taxable transaction occurs. The seller must give the affidavit and pay the tax to the county treasurer.

Summary of Substitute Bill: When a gas, electrical or telecommunications company acquires an easement, only the company is required to sign the real estate excise tax affidavit. The seller's signature is not required.

Substitute Bill Compared to Original Bill: The substitute bill adds telecommunications companies to the list of those not required to get the seller's signature on the real estate excise tax affidavit.

Fiscal Note: Requested January 27, 1994.

Effective Date of Substitute Bill: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Testimony For: The affidavit filing process will be expedited by allowing the filing without the seller's signature. The utility companies solicit the easements from property owners. It takes time on the part of property owner and company to return later for the signature. The utility company pays the tax. The legislation does not affect the tax but improves efficiency.

Testimony Against: None.

Witnesses: Representative Greg Fisher; Terry Oxley, Puget Power; Howard Strong, Puget Power; and Collins Sprague, Washington Water Power.
