HOUSE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY

BACKGROUND:

The 1991 Legislature passed two amendments to the Privacy Act. Both amendments excluded certain services from the provisions of the act. These amendments were made without reference to each other.

One amendment provided that using information obtained through 911 or enhanced 911 in order to protect the public would not violate the Privacy Act. Enhanced 911 refers to a 911 telephone service which automatically displays the name and address associated with the incoming telephone call.

The second amendment provided that information obtained and used in certain common carrier services, sometimes called "Caller I.D." services, would not violate the Privacy Act. The second amendment also referred to enhanced 911, but failed to mention 911.

The amendments are not inconsistent with each other; however, they duplicate a reference to enhanced 911.

SUMMARY:

The statute listing exceptions to the Privacy Act is amended. Subsection (a) contains the reference to common carrier services. Subsection (b) contains the reference to 911 and enhanced 911. A duplicate reference to enhanced 911 is stricken.
