Myers, Pruitt, Eide, Thomas, Kremen and Wang

WHEREAS, This great nation was built in large part through the hard work and enterprise of immigrants who left their homelands to begin a new life in this country; and

WHEREAS, Washington has the nation's third fastest-growing immigrant population of any state, and the third largest refugee population of any state; and

WHEREAS, Nearly one in ten Washington residents speaks a language other than English at home, and the number of non-English-speaking homes has increased dramatically during the last decade; and

WHEREAS, Learning the English language has been, and continues to be, critical to new immigrants if they are to succeed and prosper in this country; and

WHEREAS, More than thirty-one thousand students in Washington State currently receive English instruction through the state's Transitional Bilingual program, and thousands of adults receive instruction through a variety of state-supported and volunteer programs; and

WHEREAS, These students are taught by a dedicated group of educators, many of whom volunteer their services; and

WHEREAS, If the State of Washington is to successfully compete in international markets, having citizens who are multilingual is essential;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives honor the citizens of this state who are multilingual and the educators and other individuals who are working to assist non-English-speaking immigrants learn English; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives join the Governor and the Superintendent of Public Instruction in declaring the week of April 19-23 as a time to acknowledge the value and importance of bilingual and English-as-a-second language education to our nation.

I hereby certify this to be a true and correct copy of Resolution 4655 adopted by the House of Representatives
April 20, 1993.

Alan Thompson, Chief Clerk
