Background: Under current law, interstate or foreign commerce carriers qualify for a retail sales and use tax exemption on motor vehicles or trailers purchased or leased in Washington. In order to qualify for the exemption the carrier must document that the first use of the equipment is for an interstate or foreign haul and that the equipment will be used 25 percent of the time to transport people or property.

The state requires interstate and foreign commerce carriers to obtain both an Interstate Commerce Commission permit and a one-transit permit from the Department of Licensing. The retail sales and use tax is imposed on the purchase if the carrier fails to acquire a one-transit permit prior to moving the vehicle out of state over state roads.

Summary: The requirement that interstate and foreign commerce carriers obtain a one-transit permit or have the first use be an interstate or foreign haul in order to receive the retail sales and use tax exemption on motor vehicles or trailers purchased or leased in Washington is removed.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date The bill contains an emergency clause and takes effect on July 1, 1995.

Testimony For: (Trade & Economic Development) This bill reduces an unnecessary step in the tax exemption process for the purchaser. We can verify that the purchaser is an interstate carrier through the federal Interstate Commerce Commission permit. The one-transit permit is still needed to move the vehicle over the state's roads, but not to receive the tax exemption on the purchase.

(Finance) This is a regulation reform bill. It makes it easier for truckers to do business within Washington state. The Departments of Revenue and Licensing have no problem with this bill.

Testimony Against: (Trade & Economic Development) None.

(Finance) None.

Testified: (Trade & Economic Development) Ryan Spiller, Department of Revenue (Pro).

(Finance) Representative Steve Van Luven, prime sponsor; Ryan Spiller, Department of Revenue; and Mike Seale, Department of Licensing.
