Background: Persons who practice acupuncture must be certified to practice by the Department of Health unless otherwise authorized by law to perform such procedures.

Acupuncture is regulated under other practice laws as well. Physician assistants and osteopathic physician assistants, when certified by their respective boards, may practice acupuncture under the direct supervision of either a physician or osteopathic physician. Physicians may also practice acupuncture as their scope of practice includes medicine and surgery generally.

The acupuncture certification law defines acupuncture as a health care service based on an Oriental system of medical theory which treats organic or functional disorders by employing specified techniques, such as needles or other modalities, at specific acupuncture points or meridians on the human body. The rendering of dietary advice based on traditional Oriental medical theory is also within the scope of acupuncture certification law.

Summary of Bill: The regulatory terminology of the practice of acupuncture is changed from certification to licensure, and only persons qualifying for licensure may practice acupuncture, unless otherwise authorized by law in other practice acts.

The rendering of dietary advice is included in the scope of practice only in conjunction with the use of other acupuncture techniques. A license would not be required solely for the rendering of dietary advice per se.

The Secretary of Health is authorized to develop training guidelines for acupuncture performed by other professions. Other professionals authorized to practice acupuncture may follow the guidelines to determine the level of training sufficient for safe acupuncture services.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Not Requested.

Effective Date of Bill: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Testimony For: These changes are technical and only reflect the nature of the current regulatory program which meets the definition of licensure. This accords with the recommendations of the legislative Sunrise review.

Testimony Against: None.

Testified: Steve Berchowitz, Department of Health (pro); and Steve Lindstrom and Karen Boyd, Washington Acupuncture Association (pro).
