Background: The Department of Transportation (DOT) serves as the conduit for federal transportation funds distributed to counties, cities, metropolitan planning organizations, and transit agencies. The DOT also provides 100 percent reimbursable transportation services for local jurisdictions and private entities. Both federal pass-through and local reimbursable expenditures must be appropriated in the DOT's biennial budget. In the 1997-99 biennium, the DOT will pass through about $220 million of federal funding and provide $20 million in 100 percent reimbursable services to others.

Summary of Bill: Federal funds that are administered by the DOT and are passed through to municipal corporations or political subdivisions of the state, and moneys that are received as total reimbursement for services provided by the DOT to other entities, are removed from the transportation budget. To process and account for these expenditures, a new nonappropriated treasury account, named the miscellaneous transportation program account, is created. The DOT is required to provide an annual report to the Legislative Transportation Committee and the Office of Financial Management on expenditures and full-time equivalents processed through this account.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill contains an emergency clause and takes effect on July 1, 1997.

Testimony For: Creating a nonappropriated treasury account for processing 100 percent reimbursable federal and local projects off the state system would significantly reduce staff time and costs at the Department of Transportation by simplifying the processing of these revenues.

Testimony Against: None.

Testified: Bob Benson, Department of Transportation.
