Brief Description: Establishing a task force to update and clarify the Washington state explosives act.

HB 2676 - DIGEST

Directs the chief of the Washington state patrol or her designee to assemble a task force to review the existing state statutes and rules governing explosives.

Provides that, in conducting its review, the task force shall consider, among other things: (1) The overlap between the explosives act and the fireworks laws;

(2) whether there is a need to modernize the laws because of technological advancements; and

(3) any inconsistencies between the state and federal laws.

Requires the task force to make recommendations to the appropriate committees of the legislature during the 2001 regular session.
