Brief Description: Considering a defendant's future dangerousness to the community as a reason for an exceptional sentence.

SB 6086 - DIGEST

Declares that in considering the defendant's future dangerousness the court shall consider: (1) The defendant's criminal history, including any unscored misdemeanor or prior unscored foreign criminal history;

(2) a current mental health evaluation, if available;

(3) the defendant's amenability to treatment for underlying mental health or substance abuse issues, if applicable;

(4) any pattern of similar criminal acts;

(5) the underlying facts to the crime;

(6) any prior mental health evaluations of the defendant; and

(7) any other relevant evidence.
