Background:

The Marine Employees Commission (MEC) was established in 1983 to oversee labor and management relations for the Washington State Ferry (WSF) system. The purpose of the

MEC is to:

- Assist in resolving labor disputes:
 - Adjudicate all complaints, grievances, and disputes between labor and management arising from ferry operations; and/or
 - investigate charges of unfair labor practices.

- Assist in the collective bargaining process:
 - Determine bargaining units;
 - conduct fact-finding studies and salary surveys;
 - certify fair representation organizations; and/or
 - determine whether labor agreements exceed statutory limitations and order reductions accordingly.

In the course of discharging these duties, the MEC issues several types of official communications. This includes hearing notices, decisions, dismissals, and settlement conferences. Currently, any notice the MEC serves must be mailed by restricted certified mail. This requirement also applies to the different parties the MEC works with.

Because of the strict delivery demands of restricted certified mail, serving notices by restricted certified mail can cause great delays under some circumstances.

Summary of Bill:

The requirement for service of notices to be mailed by restricted certified mail is eliminated. The MEC is given the option to serve notices by certified mail or by fax with transaction report verification and same-day United States Postal Service mailing of copies.
