Background: In 2000, the Legislature created the Washington Professional Educator Standards Board (WPESB) to advise and provide recommendations on issues affecting educators. The WPESB was also given a specific charge to provide recommendations for at least two high-quality alternative routes to teacher certification by December 1, 2000. The WPESB submitted recommendations for three alternative routes, including recommendations for funding support and implementation.

Summary of Bill: A statewide Partnership Grant program and the Alternative Route Conditional Scholarship program are created to support three alternative routes for teacher certification. Each route focuses on increasing the number of teachers in shortage and high need areas due to subject matter or geographic location.

Eligibility for Alternative Route One. To access state funding, the teacher candidate must meet the following requirements:

- seek an endorsement in special education or English as a second language;
- have three years experience as a para-educator and be currently employed as a para-educator;
- have an associate degree;
- meet the age, good moral character, and personal fitness requirements for teachers;
- pass the statewide basic skills exams, when available.

Eligibility for Alternative Route Two. To access state funding, the teacher candidate must meet the following requirements:

- seek an endorsement in an identified subject or geographic shortage area;
- have three years experience in a classified staff position and be currently employed in a classified staff position;
- have a bachelor of arts or science degree;
- once the state content test is available, successful completion of the content test;
- meet the age, good moral character, and personal fitness requirements for teachers;
- pass the statewide basic skills exams, when available.

Eligibility for Alternative Route Three. The teacher candidate must meet the following requirements:

- seek an endorsement in identified subject shortage area, except special education or English as a second language;
- have five years experience in the work force;
- have a bachelor of arts or science degree;
- once the state content test is available, successful completion of the content test;
- demonstrate successful experiences with students or children, (which may be shown by reference letters);
- meet the age, good moral character, and personal fitness requirements for teachers;
- pass the statewide basic skills exams, when available.

School districts may enroll candidates who are seeking endorsements in non-shortage areas; however, these candidates are not eligible for state funds under the Partnership Grant program.

Partnership Grant Program: To the extent funds are provided, school districts may partner with the regional Educational Service District and higher education teachers' preparation programs to provide one or more of the three alternative route programs. Each of the alternative route programs must provide a mentor in the classroom with the teacher candidate until the candidate demonstrates competency necessary to manage the classroom with part-time supervision and guidance from the mentor. The programs may enroll candidates beginning in January 2002.

School districts may apply for grant funds to be used for stipends for the teacher candidates and the mentors by submitting a proposal to the WPESB. The WPESB, with support from the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, selects the districts that receive the partnership grants according to specified factors.

The Washington State Institute for Public Policy must evaluate the Partnership Grant program and submit an interim evaluation to the WPESB, the Legislature and the Governor by December 1, 2002, and a final evaluation by December 1, 2004.

Alternative Route Conditional Scholarship Program: To the extent funds are provided, the WPESB awards conditional scholarships to eligible para-educators and other classified staff accepted in alternative routes one or two. The scholarship award covers up to $4000 of the tuition cost for the alternative route in which the recipient is enrolled. The conditional scholarship provides one year of loan forgiveness in exchange for two years of teaching in a Washington State K-12 public school. If the recipient fails to teach in a Washington public school, then the individual must repay the scholarship principal with interest.

The Higher Education Coordinating Board (HECB) is authorized to adopt rules, collect and manage repayments and accept grant donations for the conditional scholarship program.

The Partnership Grant program and the Alternative Route Conditional Scholarship program expire June 30, 2005.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on January 31, 2001.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Testimony For: This bill provides expedient, flexible high-quality alternative routes with the necessary financial incentives for a smooth transition from a non-teaching position into a teaching position. It will help address the shortages of teachers that we are currently experiencing without sacrificing high standards. The mentoring component and professional growth plans will provide the critical support that will help ensure that people who enter the teaching profession through these alternative routes will be successful teachers and remain in the profession.

Testimony Against: None.

Testified: PRO: Senator Eide, prime sponsor; Kristin Bunce, Governor's Office; Tom Charouhts, Jennifer Wallace, Prof. Stands. Board; Rainer Houser, AWSP; Gary King, Tom Morris, WEA; Larry Davis, SBE, Greg Williamson and Lynn Douglas, OSPI; Dwayne Slate, WSSPA; Barbara Mertens, WASA; Judy Hartmann, Tacoma School District; Cheryl Ellsworth, Seattle Public Schools; Doug Nelson, Debbie Hutchinson, Beth Hall, PSE.

House Amendment(s): The House amendment adds specific components to the teacher development plan; adds bilingual to Route 1; specifies minimum one-half year mentorship, performance indicators, benchmarks, criteria, strategies and tools for evaluation; requires that interns must get at least 80 percent of BA+0 allocation amount as a stipend; Route 3 not open to school employees; Route 3 candidates may seek endorsements for non-shortage areas if for middle/high school level. Conditional scholarships are available to all candidates, not just Route 1 and 2. Candidate mentors and supervisors decide when the candidate needs less supervision and when the candidate meets the certification requirements. A null and void clause is added.
