Brief Description: Protecting certain domestic security records.

HB 2411 - DIGEST

(SUBSTITUTED FOR - SEE 1ST SUB)

Proposes to protect records assembled, prepared, or maintained to prevent, mitigate, or respond to criminal acts committed with terroristic intent as defined in 2002 c . . . s 2 (HB 2314), the public disclosure of which would have a substantial likelihood of threatening public safety, consisting of: (1) Those portions of records containing specific and unique vulnerability assessments or specific and unique response plans; data, data bases, and inventories of potentially dangerous or remedial goods or materials collected or assembled to assess and plan for terrorist acts; and communication codes or deployment plans of law enforcement or emergency response personnel;

(2) Specific intelligence information and specific investigative records shared by federal and international law enforcement agencies with state and local law enforcement and public safety agencies; and

(3) National security records classified under federal executive order and not subject to public disclosure under federal law that are shared by federal agencies, and other records related to national security briefings to assist state and local government with domestic preparedness for acts of terrorism.

Proposes to protect computing, telecommunications, and network security records and data that include: Passwords; security codes or programs; security or disaster recovery plans, risk assessments, tests, or the results of those tests; architectural or infrastructure designs; maps or other records that show the location or layout of the facilities where computing, telecommunications, or network infrastructure are located or planned to be located; codes for facility security systems; or codes for secure applications.
