They are funded by a property tax, benefit assessments, service charges, voluntary assessments, and bonds. Flood control zone districts are administered by the county engineer.

Summary of Bill:

A flood control zone district with more than 2000 residents may choose to elect the board of supervisors for the district. The election may be held upon resolution of the county legislative authority or upon petition submitted to the county auditor of 15 percent or more of the registered voters within the zone. Three elected zone supervisors are elected at large, without primary, for six-year staggered terms. The person receiving the greatest number of votes for each position is elected.
