

1302

Sponsor(s): Representatives Priest, Shabro, Roach and Nixon

Brief Description: Requiring consideration of home-based instruction when siting secure community transition facilities.

HB 1302 - DIGEST

Finds that home-based instruction is no more compatible with the immediate proximity of secure community transition facilities than a public or private school.

Declares that homes in which children receive home-based instruction deserve protection as risk potential activities or facilities.

Provides that, when the department seeks to site a secure community transition facility, the department shall request the locations of known home-based instruction from the superintendent of public instruction or the school district in which a potential site for a secure community transition facility is located.