1 AN ACT Relating to authorizing state employees to express their
2 professional opinions and use their independent professional judgments;
3 adding new sections to chapter 42.52 RCW; and creating a new section.

4 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

5 NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

6 (1) A workplace where state employees can feel free to express
7 their professional opinions encourages an open and free exchange of 8 ideas and knowledge and more efficient government;

9 (2) Scientific integrity in work by state employees is increasingly 10 important as the issues the state faces are increasing in complexity;
11 and

12 (3) Many professional licenses require license holders to express
13 their professional opinions and make independent professional judgments
14 in their work.

15 NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 42.52 RCW
16 to read as follows:

17 (1) State employees may express their professional opinions in the

1 workplace on topics within their scope of duties, even if those
2 opinions differ from the agency's official position or their
3 supervisor's opinions.

4 (2) No state employee will be required to sign a document if he or 5 she objects to the contents of the document on the basis of 6 professional, technical, or scientific grounds or the employee has a
7 reasonable basis to believe that signing the document could jeopardize
8 his or her professional license.

9 (3) When a state employee is representing the employee's agency,
10 employees may publicly express his or her professional opinion on an 11 issue, even if it is inconsistent with the agency's position on the 12 issue, if the employee clearly indicates he or she is expressing his or 13 her own professional opinion.

14 (4) When not on duty, state employees may express their 15 professional opinions on issues, whether or not the issues are related 16 to their job duties. When expressing their professional opinions to 17 the public about issues related to their job duties, the employee must 18 clearly indicate it is his or her own personal professional opinion and 19 that the employee is not representing the employee's agency.

20 (5) Nothing in this section limits a state employee's right as a
21 private citizen to express an opinion on any issue on his or her own 22 time.

23 NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 42.52 RCW
24 to read as follows:

25 Any retaliation, disciplinary action, or withholding of a promotion
26 to a state employee because he or she expressed his or her professional 27 opinion or refused to sign a document as provided for under section 2
28 of this act is a violation of this chapter.
