

HB 1369 - DIGEST

Declares that a person is presumptively guilty of negligent driving in the second degree if the driver's seat is reclined to an extent that the person cannot adequately view the roadway or use the vehicle mirrors. When issuing a traffic citation under this provision, the traffic enforcement officer must estimate the angle the driver's seat makes with the vertical and include this estimate in the citation.