EFFECT: Provides that rather than implementing local preference, school districts may permit a twenty five percent price preference for the purpose of procuring Washington grown food; narrows the scope of the Farmers Market Technology Improvement Pilot Program so that it is to assist farmers markets rather than farmers markets and farmers; modifies the data reporting requirement for the Department of Social and Health Services so that the Department shall submit data regarding Electronic Benefits Transfer activities of the Farmers Market Technology Improvement Pilot Program to the Legislature as a subset of data already being collected for the Electronic Benefits Transfer program rather than implementing new data collecting processes; makes technical corrections and clarifications.
