1 On page 19, line 15, after "state" insert "and best estimates to 2 indicate, by percentage, the types of biofuel feedstocks and sources
3 that contribute to biofuels used in the state and the general
4 geographic origination of such feedstocks and sources. Based on 5 analysis of this information, the report must also recommend 6 appropriate mechanisms, including but not limited to changes in state 7 contracting practices, tax incentives, or renewable fuel standard 8 provisions, that will help Washington farmers and businesses compete in 9 an economically viable manner and will encourage sustained development 10 of an in-state biofuels industry based on feedstocks grown and produced 11 in Washington"
