This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not a part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

Any person practicing or representing himself or herself as a massage practitioner must be licensed by the Department of Health.

Summary of Substitute Bill:

A licensed massage therapist may apply for an endorsement to perform intraoral massage after completing training specified by the Washington State Board of Massage. The training must include, among other things, intraoral massage techniques, cranial anatomy, physiology, and kinesiology, and hygienic practices.

"Intraoral massage" means the manipulation or pressure of soft tissue inside the mouth for therapeutic purposes.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on February 15, 2007.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) This kind of therapeutic massage greatly benefits persons with temporomandibular joint disorders. Dentist, dental hygienists, and physical therapists do not oppose this bill. There should be some kind of education before beginning this practice. Several other states include this practice in their massage licensure statutes.

(Opposed) None.

Persons Testifying: Melanie Stewart and Anne Brittain, American Massage Therapy Association, Washington Chapter.

Persons Signed In To Testify But Not Testifying: None.
