Background:

A person is guilty of vehicular homicide if he or she proximately causes, within three years, the death of another by driving any vehicle: (a) under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drug, (b) in a reckless manner, or (c) with disregard for the safety of others. Vehicular homicide by intoxicating liquor or drug is a class A felony and has a presumptive standard sentence of 31-41 months in prison for a first offense.

Under the Sentencing Reform Act (SRA), the court must impose imprisonment in addition to the standard sentencing range if specific conditions for sentencing enhancements are met. Sentencing enhancements apply, for example, if an offender is armed with a firearm or deadly weapon while committing certain felonies. Under the firearm and deadly weapon sentencing enhancement, the statutes explicitly state that the enhancement is mandatory, must be served in total confinement, and must run consecutively to all other sentences, unless the offender has been granted an extraordinary medical placement. Earned early release time, which reduces an offender's sentence based on good behavior, is not available for the portion of the offender's sentence that is a firearm or deadly weapon enhancement.

This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not a part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

There is a two year sentencing enhancement for vehicular homicide committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs. For each DUI-related "prior offense" the offender has, the sentencing court must impose an additional two years. Prior offenses, as defined under the DUI laws, include convictions for: (1) DUI; (2) vehicular homicide and vehicular assault if committed while under the influence; (3) negligent driving after having consumed alcohol ("wet neg"), reckless driving, and reckless endangerment if the original charge for any of those offenses was DUI; and (4) any equivalent local DUI ordinance or out-of-state law. In addition, a deferred prosecution for DUI or "wet neg" counts as a prior offense even if the charges are dropped after successful completion of the deferred prosecution treatment program.

The sentencing enhancement for DUI-related vehicular homicide does not explicitly state that the enhancement is mandatory, to be served in total confinement, and to run consecutively.

Summary of Bill:

The sentencing enhancement for DUI-related vehicular homicide shall be mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions.
