

HB 2490 - DIGEST

Declares that personal information about a commissioned peace officer, the officer's family, or both; or information that could easily lead to the discovery of the personal information; and that is not necessary for the effective operation of a law enforcement agency is exempt from public inspection and copying.

Provides that the full name, year of birth, and photograph of individual commissioned peace officers shall be disclosed pursuant to specific requests for information about the individual officer, but the officer, the officer's immediate supervisor, or both, must be notified of the request and provided the name and city or county of the requester before it may be disseminated.
