

HB 2753 - DIGEST

Provides that a species designated as endangered by the state fish and wildlife commission must be so designated for no less than six months before any commission action is taken to remove the species from designation or to change the designation of the species.