Brief Description: Changing border county opportunity program provisions.

Sponsors: Representatives Orcutt, Wallace, Herrera and Moeller.

Brief Summary of Bill <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Allows individuals who recently relocated to Washington from specific border counties in Oregon to immediately qualify to pay resident tuition rates at certain Washington community colleges and universities.</li></ul>
---

Hearing Date: 2/4/09

Staff: Andi Smith (786-7304)

Background:

Washington laws regarding residency specify criteria that must be met before an individual is eligible to pay in-state tuition rates at public institutions of higher education. In most cases, an individual must have lived in Washington for a minimum of one year prior to the first day of the beginning of the academic term for which they have registered. Over the years, exceptions to this rule have been made for military personnel, their spouses and dependents, as well as special classes of high school seniors who have met additional qualifying criteria.

Reciprocity agreements allow some Washington students to attend public colleges in other states and pay lower tuition rates, with similar arrangements for out-of-state students coming to Washington's public colleges and universities. Washington has not had a reciprocity agreement with Oregon since the 2000-2001 academic year, at Oregon's request. However, other types of student exchange options are currently in effect.

Vancouver and Tri-Cities are only available to Oregon students who take eight credits or less. In fall 2004, about 90 Oregon students participated in the program at the WSU campuses. In 2003-2004, nearly 600 full-time equivalent Oregon residents took advantage of the program at Washington community colleges.

The 13 Oregon "border counties" are Columbia, Gilliam, Hood River, Multnomah, Clatsop, Clackamas, Morrow, Sherman, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wasco, and Washington.

Tuition Waivers: All community colleges can waive nonresident tuition for out-of-state students under provisions of the "non-specific" tuition waiver. In 2003-2004, more than 2,000 out-of-state students received this waiver at Washington community colleges.

Summary of Bill:

Columbia Basin Community College, Clark College, Lower Columbia Community College, Grey's Harbor Community College, and Walla Walla Community College may charge resident tuition rates to students who moved to Washington from a "border county" within the last 12 months and had lived in the border county for 90 days immediately prior to moving to Washington.

The Tri-cities and Vancouver branch campuses of Washington State University may charge resident tuition rates to students who moved to Washington from one of nine Oregon border counties provided that the student: (1) moved to Washington within the last twelve months, (2) lived in the border county for 90 days immediately prior to moving to Washington, and (3) is enrolled in eight credits or less. The nine eligible Oregon counties include Columbia, Multnomah, Clatsop, Clackamas, Morrow, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, and Washington.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on February 2, 2009.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.
