Hearing Date: 2/3/11

Staff: Chris Blake (786-7392).

Background:

Law enforcement officers, firefighters, health care providers, health care facility staff, Department of Corrections staff, jail staff, and other categories of employment that the State Board of Health determines are at risk of substantial exposure to human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) (collectively, "at-risk employees"), upon a substantial exposure to another person's bodily fluids in the course of their employment, may request a state or local health official to order testing for HIV upon the person to whose bodily fluids they were exposed. If the state or local health official refuses, then the at-risk employee may petition the superior court for a hearing as to whether or not testing should be ordered. The standard of review for the superior court is whether substantial exposure occurred and whether it presents a possible risk of transmission of HIV. If testing is ordered by the state or local health officer, the person who is to be tested may also petition the superior court under the same standard.

Summary of Bill:

This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not a part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

Law enforcement officers, firefighters, health care providers, health care facility staff, Department of Corrections staff, jail staff, and other categories of employment that the State Board of Health determines are at risk of substantial exposure to human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) (collectively, "at-risk employees") who are eligible to request an order for HIV testing upon a person to whose bodily fluids he or she has been exposed, may also request a state or local health official to order testing for bloodborne pathogens. Court orders for the mandatory testing of an individual for HIV may also include additional testing for other bloodborne pathogens. The exception to privacy laws regarding the disclosure of information related to HIV for at-risk employees also applies to the disclosure of test results for bloodborne pathogens.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on January 27, 2011.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.
