Background: The Washington Department of Veterans Affairs is divided into three divisions: administrative services, state veterans homes, and veteran services.

Three state veteran homes – the Washington Soldiers Home and Colony at Orting, the Washington Veterans Home, and the Spokane Veterans Home – provide long-term health care for honorably discharged veterans and in some instances, their spouses, who are disabled and indigent or likely to become indigent due to the cost of their health care.

The Spokane Veterans Home opened October 1, 2001, and has 100 skilled level nursing beds. The Soldiers Home at Orting was opened in 1891 and has a residential capacity of 183. The Colony designed to serve eligible veterans and their families residing in the Orting School District was added in 1905; the Colony has a capacity of 24 members. The Washington Veterans Home in Retsil, was opened in 1910; current resident capacity is 262. The Orting and Retsil homes provide three levels of care: domiciliary, assisted-living, and skilled nursing.

This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not a part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony: PRO: This is a good bill, and the City of Walla Walla, the Department of Veterans Affairs, and the Veterans Legislative Coalition all endorse it. The plans are all prepared. The federal government has allocated the funds, and all we need now is state-matching funds and we can break ground. The last Veterans home opened in the state in 2001, and the need is there.

Persons Testifying: PRO: Jerry Cummins, City of Walla Walla; John Lee, Director of Department of Veterans Affairs; Ted Wicorek, Veterans Legislative Coalition; Dave Mastin, Port of Walla Walla.
