SENATE COMMITTEE ON WAYS & MEANS

Staff: Steve Jones (786-7440)

Background: In addition to the Senate and the House of Representatives, the legislative branch of state government consists of several statutory legislative agencies. The legislative agencies include:

- Joint Legislative Audit and Review Committee – conducts performance audits, program evaluations, special studies, and program sunset reviews;
- Statute Law Committee – publishes the Revised Code of Washington and the Washington Administrative Code; provides a central bill-drafting service;
- Joint Transportation Committee – serves as the joint fact-finding committee on transportation issues;
- Office of the State Actuary – provides actuarial services relating to state retirement systems and other programs;
- Joint Legislative Systems Committee – administers legislative information processing and communications systems; and
- Legislative Evaluation and Accountability Program Committee – provides information and technology with respect to budgets and revenue.

The Senate, House of Representatives, and legislative agencies each employ professional and administrative support staff.

Summary of Bill: The Office of Legislative Support Services is established to provide administrative and support services to the Senate, House of Representatives, Joint Legislative Audit and Review Committee, Statute Law Committee, Joint Transportation Committee,
