NOT ADOPTED 03/06/2013

1 Beginning on page 19, line 27, strike all of subsection (d) and 2 insert:

3 "~~((d) Residential schedule. The court may deviate from the 4 standard calculation if the child spends a significant amount of time
5 with the parent who is obligated to make a support transfer payment.
6 The court may not deviate on that basis if the deviation will result
7 in insufficient funds in the household receiving the support to meet
8 the basic needs of the child or if the child is receiving temporary 9 assistance for needy families. When determining the amount of the 10 deviation, the court shall consider evidence concerning the increased 11 expenses to a parent making support transfer payments resulting from 12 the significant amount of time spent with that parent and shall 13 consider the decreased expenses, if any, to the party receiving the 14 support resulting from the significant amount of time the child spends 15 with the parent making the support transfer payment.))"~~

16

17 On page 22, after line 22, insert the following:

18 "NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 26.19
19 RCW to read as follows:

20 (1) The court shall make an adjustment to the standard calculation
21 for a shared residential schedule subject to the provisions in this 22 section.

23 (2) In order to make an adjustment to the standard calculation 24 based on the residential schedule, there must be a court order or 25 findings made by an administrative law judge regarding the number of 26 overnights the child or children spend with the obligor parent, and 27 the number of overnights allocated to the obligor is equivalent to at

1 least fourteen percent of annual overnights. The number of overnights
2 in the court order or administrative law judge's findings must be used 3 to calculate the residential adjustment. The findings made by an 4 administrative law judge may be based upon a written agreement between 5 the parents or upon sworn testimony provided by a party at the 6 administrative hearing for child support.

7 (3) The adjustment must be based on the table in section 8 of this 8 act and the formula set forth in the worksheet for calculating 9 residential credit.

10 (4) An adjustment may not be made to the standard calculation 11 based on the shared residential schedule if:

12 (a) The adjustment would result in insufficient funds in the 13 household receiving the support transfer payment to meet the basic 14 needs of the child;

15 (b) The obligee's net income before receiving the support transfer 16 payment is at or below one hundred twenty-five percent of the federal 17 poverty level guidelines for one person; or

18 (c) The child is receiving temporary assistance for needy 19 families.

20 (5) To help parties estimate residential credit, the division of 21 child support shall, if feasible and within available resources, 22 create a residential credit calculator available online.

24 NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 26.19 RCW
25 to read as follows:

26 Residential time table. The TOTAL column represents the 27 anticipated total out-of-pocket expenses expressed as a percentage of 28 the basic child support obligation that will be incurred by the parent 29 who will pay child support. The total expenses are the sum of 30 transferred and duplicated expenses. The DUPLICATED column represents 31 the duplicated expenses and reflects the assumption that when there is 32 an equal sharing of residential time, fifty percent of the basic child 33 support obligation will be duplicated. The number of annual 34

1 overnights column will determine the particular fractions of TOTAL and 2 DUPLICATED to be used in the residential time credit worksheet.

4 "Sec. 8. RCW 26.19.050 and 2005 c 282 s 37 are each amended to 5 read as follows:

6 (1) The administrative office of the courts shall develop and 7 adopt worksheets and instructions to assist the parties and courts in 8 establishing the appropriate child support level and apportionment of 9 support. The administrative office of the courts shall develop and 10 adopt a worksheet for calculating residential credit that is 11 consistent with the intent set forth in section 1 of this act. The 12 administrative office of the courts shall attempt to the greatest 13 extent possible to make the worksheets and instructions understandable 14 by persons who are not represented by legal counsel.

15 (2) The administrative office of the courts shall develop and 16 adopt standards for the printing of worksheets and shall establish a 17 process for certifying printed worksheets. The administrator may 18 maintain a register of sources for approved worksheets.

19 (3) The administrative office of the courts should explore methods
20 to assist pro se parties and judges in the courtroom to calculate 21 support payments through automated software, equipment, or personal 22 assistance."

EFFECT: Provides that the court must make an adjustment to the standard calculation, rather than a deviation, where there is a shared residential schedule for a child. There must be a court order or administrative law judge findings regarding the number of overnights, which must be equivalent to at least 14 percent of the annual overnights. The adjustments must be made based on a new table and a formula set forth in a worksheet for calculating residential credit, which must be developed by the AOC consistent with the intent of the workgroup. An adjustment may not be made if:

28

(1) it would result in insufficient funds to the receiving household to meet the basic needs of the child; (2) the obligee's net income before receiving child support is at or below 125 percent of the federal poverty guidelines for one person; or (3) the child is receiving TANF.
