
Government Accountability & Oversight Committee

HB 1835

Brief Description: Authorizing enhanced raffles conducted by bona fide charitable or nonprofit organizations serving individuals with intellectual disabilities.

Sponsors: Representatives Hunt, Condotta and Ryu.

Brief Summary of Bill

- Authorizes specified charitable and nonprofit organizations to conduct up to four enhanced raffles per year subject to approval by the Washington State Gambling Commission.
- Limits the eligibility to conduct enhanced raffles to those bona fide charitable or nonprofit organizations whose primary purpose is serving individuals with intellectual disabilities.
- Defines "enhanced raffle" as a game involving the sale of tickets bearing an individual number and in which a grand prize and smaller prizes are awarded on the basis of drawings of the tickets by the person or persons conducting the game.
- Limits the value of the grand prize to five million dollars and the cost of tickets to $250 each.

Hearing Date: 2/19/13

Staff: Thamas Osborn (786-7129).

Background:

Washington's Gambling Act authorizes charitable and nonprofit organizations to conduct raffles to raise funds for the organizations' stated purposes. A raffle is an event where tickets are sold and prizes are awarded based on a random drawing. In general, only certain charitable and nonprofit organizations are permitted to offer raffles. Organizations must be organized or operated for one of the following purposes: agricultural, athletic, charitable, civic, educational, fraternal, patriotic, political, or social. Agricultural fairs, fraternal societies, religious societies, churches, and granges also qualify. There are also some circumstances under which credit unions, cities, counties, and towns, and executive branch state employees may offer raffles. The Washington State Gambling Commission (Commission) regulates raffles. The maximum price of a raffle ticket is $100.

This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not a part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

Some raffles require a license from the Commission and others do not:

- Unlicensed members-only raffles. An organization may hold an unlimited number of raffles that are open exclusively to members so long as the combined gross revenue does not exceed $5,000 per calendar year.
- Licensed members-only raffles. A members-only raffle that exceeds $5,000 in combined gross revenue is authorized provided that a license is obtained from the Commission.
- Unlicensed public raffles. An organization may hold two raffles per year that are open to the public if the combined gross revenue does not exceed $5,000 per year, it is managed and conducted exclusively by members, the organization maintains records for one year, and it provides notice of the raffle to the local police agency at least five days in advance.
- Licensed raffles. If an organization wishes to hold a raffle that does not conform to the unlicensed raffle requirements, it must obtain a license from the Commission.

Summary of Bill:

The Commission is authorized to approve two enhanced raffles per calendar year in western Washington and two in eastern Washington. Only a bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization whose primary purpose is serving individuals with intellectual disabilities is eligible to conduct an enhanced raffle. "Enhanced raffle" means a game involving the sale of tickets bearing an individual number and in which a grand prize and smaller prizes are awarded on the basis of drawings of the tickets by the person or persons conducting the game. The cost of tickets may not exceed $250 each. In addition to a grand prize drawing, an enhanced raffle may include additional related entries and drawings for lesser prizes.

In order to be approved by the Commission, an enhanced raffle must meet the following conditions:

- The value of the grand prize may not exceed five million dollars.
- Sales of tickets must be made only in person, by mail, by fax, or by telephone.
- Where noncash prizes are offered, the sponsoring organization must be able to demonstrate that such prizes are available and that sufficient funds are held in reserve in the event the winner chooses a noncash prize.
- All enhanced raffles and associated smaller raffles must be independently audited pursuant to rules promulgated by the Commission.
- The bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization must be the primary recipient of the funds raised.
- If ticket sales are insufficient to pay for the enhanced raffle grand prize, the enhanced raffle winner must receive 50 percent of the net proceeds in excess of expenses. Also, under these circumstances the enhanced raffle winner must be given a choice of specified annuity options in lieu of the grand prize.
- The sponsoring organization must have a dedicated employee who is responsible for the oversight of enhanced raffle operations.

- An enhanced raffle must be conducted in accordance with all other requirements of the Gambling Act, other applicable laws, and the rules of the Commission.

Subject to the approval of the Commission, the sponsoring organization has the option of including the following elements and features as part of the design and management of the raffle:

- Multiple ticket discount packages may be offered.
- Multiple smaller prizes may be offered during the course of the raffle.
- Call centers managed by outside vendors may be used to conduct ticket sales. The vendor may not solicit sales.
- Receipts, including ticket confirmation numbers, may be sent to ticket purchasers either by mail or email.
- The sponsoring organization may hire a consultant to run the enhanced raffle, provided the consultant is licensed by the Commission.

The Commission has the authority to set fees for bona fide charitable or nonprofit organizations, call center vendors, and consultants conducting enhanced raffles. It is also authorized to adopt rules governing the licensing and operation of such raffles.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Not requested.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.