Alternative Contracting Procedures.

Alternative forms of public works were first used on a very limited basis and then adopted in statute in 1994 for certain pilot projects. These alternative procedures included a Design Build process.

With some restrictions, the use of alternative public works contracting procedures are authorized to a limited number of public entities.

Design Build.

The Design Build procedure is a multi-step competitive process to award a contract to a single firm that agrees to both design and build a public facility that meets specific criteria. It may be used on projects valued over $10 million and projects between $2 million and $10 million under certain conditions. Contracts for Design Build services are awarded through a competitive process using public solicitations of proposals. Finalists proposals are evaluated solely on factors identified in the request for proposals.

Building performance goals and validation requirements are required in the requests for proposals that the public body issues for Design Build services.
