

HB 2403 - DIGEST

Exempts from disclosure under the public records act, those portions of records containing geographic information systems data for sewer mains, water mains, and manholes to the extent they identify specific system vulnerabilities or where the release of information may increase the risk to the agency's infrastructure or assets from criminal terrorist acts.