EFFECT: Provides that the executive directors from the Washington state commissions on African-American affairs, Asian Pacific American affairs, and Hispanic affairs have a right to obtain body worn camera recordings, subject to any exemptions, and may not be charged for the costs of redacting exempt information.

Removes a provision prohibiting a person from arguing for derivative suppression of certain evidence if there has been a failure to record, maintain, or provide video and/or sound recordings made by body worn cameras.

Requires law enforcement agencies that deploy body worn cameras by the effective date of the section to establish policies regarding how, and under what circumstances, an officer is to inform a member of the public that their communication is being recorded.

Requires the task force to also report its findings and recommendations regarding the use of body worn cameras for surveillance.
