Background:

The Department of Labor and Industries (Department) regulates many different trades and industries. Three of these are elevator systems, factory assembled structures, and construction contractors. In these industries, the Department inspects elevators, regulates certain aspects of the manufacture of factory assembled structures, such as manufactured homes, commercial coaches, recreational vehicles and factory assembled housing, and registers contractors.

Inspection, permit, or registration fees are collected from all three trades. In addition, the Department can impose penalties on individuals that violate the Department's rules for each industry. These fees and penalties are paid into the State General Fund. From the State General Fund, the Legislature appropriates funds each biennium to cover the enforcement and administration costs of these programs.

Summary of Bill:

The Construction Registration Account (Account) is created. All revenues generated from elevator, factory assembled structures, and contractor registration programs, except fines and penalties, are deposited in the Account. Fees deposited into the Account must be set at a level as near as practicable to support the operations of the three programs, and monies in the Account may only be spent for program activities after appropriation. Fines and penalties from the three programs are deposited in the State General Fund. Additionally, 7 percent of revenues received into the Account, net of refunds paid to customers, must be transferred into the State General Fund quarterly.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) This bill is crafted to move an amount of money into the new Account that is as close as possible to the amount appropriated from the State General Fund for these programs over the last three biennia; the impact to the State General Fund is thus as close as possible to zero. The Governor approves this shift.

When, for instance, a building owner requests a permit, the fee for the permit is for a safety inspection. Today, the fee goes into the State General Fund, and the Department then has to compete for the appropriation for the inspection with all the other programs supported by the State General Fund. In the last several biennia, that competition has been intense. This bill shields these programs from that pressure.

The Department has heard that the business community did not want the Department writing additional tickets just to pad its available funding. The bill addresses this concern with the provision requiring fine and penalty revenues to continue going to the State General Fund.

The Department would continue to come to the Legislature for an appropriation, but it feels a dedicated account would "earmark" the funds for the intended programs.

(Opposed) None.
