Background:

In 2015 the Legislature passed Second Substitute Senate Bill 5404, which created the Office of Homeless Youth Prevention and Protection Programs (Office) within the Department of Commerce (COM). The Office is responsible for leading efforts to coordinate a spectrum of funding, policy, and practice efforts related to homeless youth with a stated goal of preventing state systems from discharging youth and young adults into homelessness. Additionally, the Office was authorized to provide the management and oversight of HOPE Centers, Crisis Residential Centers (CRC), street youth services, and the Independent Youth Housing Program.

HOPE Centers provide temporary residential placements for street youth under the age of 18. Youth may self-refer to a HOPE Center for services, and entering a center is voluntary. While residing in a HOPE Center, youth undergo a comprehensive assessment in order to develop the best plan for the youth.

The CRCs are short-term, semi-secure facilities for runaway youth and adolescents in conflict with their families. Youth cannot remain in a CRC more than 15 consecutive days. Counselors at a CRC work with the family to resolve the immediate conflict and develop better ways of dealing with the conflict in the future. The Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) is responsible for licensing CRCs.

The COM oversees Washington's Homeless Management Information System (HMIS). The HMIS is used by state and federally funded homeless and housing service providers to collect and manage data gathered during the course of providing housing assistance to people already experiencing homelessness and to households at-risk of losing their housing. The stated purpose of the HMIS is to provide updated information on the number of individuals experiencing homelessness in the state.

Summary of Substitute Bill:

The DSHS may share certain child welfare records with the COM for purposes of meeting the service needs of youth admitted to CRCs or HOPE Centers under contract with the Office. The administrator of a CRC must notify the DSHS of duties related to the admission only if the child is a dependent. The COM is responsible for collecting and distributing information on state agencies who agree to participate in a multidisciplinary team working with the administrator of a CRC. Payments for a HOPE Center bed are not contingent upon approval from the DSHS. Additionally, youth ages 13 and older may consent to the collection of personally identifying information for purposes of the Washington HMIS.

The definition of "child in need of services petition" is modified to clarify that that it is the role of the DSHS to file a petition and not the responsibility of the COM.

Substitute Bill Compared to Original Bill:

The substitute bill shifts responsibilities from the DSHS to the COM regarding collecting and distributing information on state agencies who agree to participate in a multidisciplinary team working with the administrator of a CRC. It requires the administrator of a CRC to notify the DSHS of duties related to admission only if the child is dependent. The substitute also clarifies that the DSHS, not the COM, is responsible for licensing CRCs. Additionally, it provides that the COM's payment for a HOPE Center bed is not contingent upon approval from the DSHS.

The substitute bill modifies the definition of "child in need of services petition" to clarify it is the role of the DSHS to file a petition and not the responsibility of the COM. It transfers duties associated with the Responsible Living Skills Program bed from the COM to the DSHS.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date of Substitute Bill: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) Whenever we create a new entity there are some policies that need to be revised in order to ensure an efficient and smooth transition. While working on getting the Office operational, it was recognized that several technical changes needed to be made to clarify the responsibilities of the DSHS and the COM for purposes of serving homeless youth. For example, a technical fix is needed in order to allow providers at HOPE Centers and CRCs to access child welfare records of the youth admitted to these facilities.

It is also important that we allow youth to consent to providing their personal information. Gathering data on homeless youth is crucial for guiding policy and understanding the scope of the need. Data drives decision making, and as the Office works with the Legislature they would like to provide well-informed guidance backed by outcome data. Additionally, the young people working with the Mockingbird Society as part of the Youth Advocates Ending Homelessness (YAEH) program support the bill and believe that if they can't consent to have their data collected they can't be counted. The YAEH participants would like the Office to be able to gather data on all youth experiencing homelessness in order to effectively carry out the duties assigned to it by the Legislature.
