Background:

In 2013, the Legislature directed school districts to take certain prescribed steps in the event a third grade student scored below basic on the third grade statewide English Language Arts (ELA) assessment. "Basic" is defined as a score of two on the four-level scoring system. "Below basic" is a score of one.

Beginning in the 2014-15 school year, districts are required to do the following:

- Schedule a meeting, before the end of the school year, between the student's parent or guardian, teacher, and the principal to discuss appropriate grade placement and recommended intensive strategies to improve the student's reading skills.
- For students to be placed in fourth grade, the discussion must include an intensive improvement strategy that includes a summer program or other option identified as appropriately meeting the student's need to prepare for fourth grade.
- The student's parent or guardian must be fully informed and their consent must be obtained for the grade placement and improvement strategy, which must then be implemented by the district.

This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not a part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

In 2015, the third grade statewide student ELA assessment is to be administered between March 10 and April 23, in order to meet the meeting requirements above. In contrast, the third grade statewide mathematics assessment has a longer administration window: March 10 through June 15, 2015 (within the last 12 weeks of the school year).

Students in special education are exempt from these policies because communication with parents and improvement strategies are based on the student's individualized education program (IEP). English language learner students are also exempt unless they have been enrolled in the Transitional Bilingual Instruction Program for three school years.

Summary of Bill:

The timing of the meeting with parents and guardians is changed, and the requirement that principals attend the meeting is removed. Prior to the return of the results of the third grade statewide ELA assessment, elementary schools shall require meetings between teachers and parents or guardians of students in third grade who are reading below grade-level or who, based on formative or diagnostic assessment, and other indicators, are likely to score in the below basic level on the third grade statewide ELA assessment. At the meeting, the teacher must inform the parents or guardians of the reading improvement strategies that will be available to students before fourth grade and the district's grade placement policy for the following year. For students to be placed in the fourth grade, the district must provide, an intensive improvement strategy that includes a summer program or other options developed to meet the needs of students preparing for fourth grade.

Schools that have regularly scheduled parent teacher conferences may use those conferences to comply with the meeting requirement.

In the event that a student scores below grade level on the third grade statewide ELA assessment, and no prior meeting has occurred, the principal or his or her designee must notify the student's parents or guardians of the following:

- the below basic score;
- an explanation regarding the requirements of the law with respect to the meeting, provision of improvement strategies, and grade placement;
- the intensive improvement strategy options that are available;
- the school district's grade placement policy;
- contact information for a school district employee who can respond to questions and provide additional information; and
- a reasonable deadline for obtaining the parent's consent regarding the student's intensive improvement strategies that will be implemented and the student's grade placement.

Regardless of whether there is a meeting between teacher and parent or guardian, or whether the information is communicated via the principal or his or her designee, the school district must still receive the parent's or guardian's consent regarding appropriate grade placement and the intensive improvement strategy to be implemented. If there is not agreement, the parent's request will be honored. If a parent or guardian does not respond by the deadline or a reasonable time thereafter, the principal or his or her designee must make a decision on the student's grade placement for the following year and the intensive improvement strategies that will be implemented during the following school year.
