Background: A Regional Transit Authority (RTA) is authorized to use its tax revenues to plan, construct, and operate high-capacity transportation, such as express bus service and light rail. There is currently one RTA, Sound Transit, which operates light rail, commuter rail service, and express bus service in Puget Sound. Sound Transit's System Access Policy establishes a framework for addressing access to Sound Transit facilities and states "Sound Transit will work cooperatively and in partnership with local jurisdictions to manage parking demand at and near transit facilities... Sound Transit will work cooperatively with other providers of public transportation services and parking facilities to identify appropriate methods of responding to changing parking demands and usage patterns resulting from Sound Transit actions."

This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not a part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

Summary of Engrossed Substitute Bill: When an RTA constructs or operates a transportation facility, it must consider the potential impacts of that facility on parking availability for residents nearby and develop mitigation strategies.

A city with a population of more than 600,000 – currently Seattle, must honor all requests for restricted parking zone permits implemented as a result of the parking impacts of a regional transit authority, and charge no more than $5 per year for those restricted parking zone permits. Also, restricted parking zone permits must be allowed for registered nonprofits located within a restricted parking zone implemented as a result of the parking impacts of a regional transit authority.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available. New fiscal note requested on March 3, 2015.

Committee/Commission/Task Force Created: No.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony on Original Bill: PRO: When Sound Transit built certain facilities they did not include parking facilities and parking has increased in neighborhoods. Seattle has implemented zoned parking to deal with the increased parking, charging $60 per permit for a neighborhood parking permit. This is a burdensome amount for families and this bill mitigates the impact of Sound Transit.

Persons Testifying: PRO: Senator Hasegawa, prime sponsor.

Persons Signed In To Testify But Not Testifying: No one.
