Signed by Senators Becker, Chair; Dammeier, Vice Chair; Cleveland, Ranking Minority Member; Angel, Bailey, Baumgartner, Brown, Conway, Frockt, Jayapal, Keiser, Parlette and Rivers.

Background: The Controlled Substances Act prohibits practitioners from prescribing amphetamines or Schedule II non-narcotic stimulants except for the treatment of specific disease states or conditions as set forth in statute and rule. Currently, Schedule II non-narcotic stimulants are permitted to be prescribed for the treatment of narcolepsy, depression, multiple sclerosis, and other listed medical conditions.

On January 30, 2015, the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approved lisdexamfetamine dimesylate, a Schedule II non-narcotic stimulant, to treat binge-eating disorder in adults. Binge-eating disorder is not one of the medical conditions in statute for which Schedule II non-narcotic stimulants may be prescribed.

Summary of Bill: Binge-eating disorder is added to the medical conditions for which Schedule II non-narcotic stimulants may be prescribed.
