

HB 2627 - DIGEST

Establishes the alive at twenty-five act.

States that the purpose of the young driver safety training program, which is the national safety council's alive at twenty-five defensive driving course, is to instruct, educate, and inform those who attend the training program on defensive driving techniques and other strategies for staying safe on the road designed specifically for young drivers.

Authorizes a local government to establish a young driver safety training program and authorizes a court to require attendance at the training program by drivers younger than twenty-five years old.
