EFFECT: Authorizes the Pollution Liability Insurance Agency (PLIA) to provide advice and technical assistance concerning petroleum storage tank systems located at facilities that have been ranked either a "four" or a "five" by the Department of Ecology pursuant to the Washington Ranking Method, rather than only petroleum storage tank systems identified by the Department of Ecology. Removes references to the PLIA's authorization to provide technical advice and assistance pending the adoption of rules. Removes the provision prohibiting the PLIA from providing advice and technical assistance related to petroleum storage tank systems until January 1, 2018.
