

FINAL BILL REPORT

HB 1195

C 78 L 17
Synopsis as Enacted

Brief Description: Concerning surrender of person under surety's bond.

Sponsors: Representatives Kilduff, Rodne, Goodman, Hayes and Muri.

House Committee on Public Safety
Senate Committee on Law & Justice

Background:

Pretrial release is the release of a defendant from custody pending trial. A personal recognizance release is the release of the defendant from custody solely upon his or her promise to appear for future court proceedings. Bail allows the defendant to be released from custody only upon the posting of cash or other security with the court. The property is held as collateral to assure the defendant's appearance in future court proceedings. Bail is fulfilled by the posting of a bond. The defendant may post cash, securities, or other liquid assets to satisfy the amount of the bond.

The state Constitution guarantees the right to bail for people charged with noncapital crimes, and this right has been interpreted as the right to a judicial determination of either personal recognizance release or reasonable bail. If bail is allowed, this constitutional guarantee has also been interpreted to guarantee the option of a surety arrangement.

A defendant arrested and held in custody may be located in the county or city jail affiliated with the court handling the charges against the defendant, or he or she may be located in another unaffiliated facility. Once a bond is posted, the defendant is released from custody. A bail bondsperson may obtain a return of the bond if the defendant is produced in court or returned to custody. After a forfeiture for failure to appear in court or when surrendering the defendant for another reason, the bail bondsperson may surrender the defendant to the county or city jail affiliated with the court or to the unaffiliated facility in which the person was originally held in custody.

Summary:

When a bail bondsperson surrenders a defendant to custody, the surrender must be made to the county or city jail affiliated with the jurisdiction issuing the warrant resulting in bail.
