economic growth. The CERB receives administrative support from the Department of Commerce.

Through the CERB, local governments can apply for low-interest loans and grants to help finance public facility projects. Counties, cities, towns, port districts, federally recognized Indian tribes, special purpose districts, municipal corporations, and quasi-municipal corporations with economic development purposes are eligible to apply. Public facilities eligible for the CERB financing include the following: bridges, roads, domestic and industrial water, earth stabilization, sanitary sewers, storm sewers, railroads, telecommunications, electricity, transportation, natural gas, buildings or structures, and port facilities.

Funding for CERB projects is appropriated in the Capital Budget primarily from the Public Facilities Construction Loan Revolving Account. The CERB must make at least 75 percent of the first $20 million of funds, and at least 50 percent of additional funds, available to financial assistance for projects in rural counties.

The CERB must conduct biennial outcome-based evaluations of the financial assistance provided. The evaluations must include:

- the number of applications for CERB assistance;
- the number and types of projects approved and businesses assisted by funded projects;
- the grant or loan amount awarded each project;
- the projected number of jobs created or retained by each project;
- the actual number and cost of jobs created or retained by each project;
- the wages and health benefits associated with the jobs created;
- the amount of state funds and total capital invested in projects;
- the location of funded projects;
- the transportation infrastructure available for completed projects;
- the number of delinquent loans and project terminations; and
- the local match and local participation obtained.

The evaluations may also include performance measures and recommendations for programmatic changes. The evaluations are due to the Governor and appropriate committees of the Legislature by December 31 of each even-numbered year.

Summary of Bill:

Eight million dollars is appropriated from the Public Facility Construction Loan Revolving Account to the Community Economic Revitalization Board (CERB) for the purpose of financing public facilities.

The CERB must use the outcome-based evaluation reports to develop a strategic plan for the $8 million appropriated. The plan must incorporate the data collected in the evaluation reports to establish the most effective way to meet the goals of the CERB program. The strategic plan is due to the Legislature by December 31, 2017.

Appropriation: The sum of $8 million from the Public Facility Construction Loan Revolving Account to the Community Economic Revitalization Board.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) The Community Economic Revitalization Board (CERB) has been one of the most successful programs at creating jobs and has been a great resource for small towns and ports in Washington. The current reporting requirements are good. This legislation is intended to enhance the current reporting requirements of the CERB and to authorize additional funding for the continued work of the CERB. The new reporting requirements would require a formal report to the Legislature, rather than just a publication, which would provide additional oversight of the program. Recently, there has been more interest in rural job creation and continued support of the CERB could be an important piece to accomplishing the goals in this area.

(Opposed) None.
