     EFFECT: Strikes all provisions except for the intent section, the establishment of the Keep Washington Working work group, and the null and void clause. Strikes the following provisions:
(1) The definition section;
(2) The requirement that the state attorney general develop and publish three sets of model policies and guidance related to limiting immigration by certain state agencies, entities, and law enforcement to the fullest extent and consistent with federal and state law;
27

(3) Restrictions placed on state and local law enforcement on: disclosing nonpublic personal information about an individual to immigration authorities or giving immigration authorities access to interview individuals about a noncriminal matter while the person is in custody, except as provided by law; taking or holding a person in custody solely for the purposes of determining immigration status or based solely on an immigration warrant or hold request; accepting language services from federal immigration authorities; inquiring into or collecting information about an individual's immigration or citizenship status, or place of birth;

(4) Requirements placed on certain state agencies to review their confidentiality policies and make any necessary changes to ensure that information collected from individuals is limited to information necessary to perform agency duties and is not used or disclosed for other purposes;

(5) Provision that public employees may not condition services or request information or proof regarding a person's immigration or citizenship status, or place of birth, except as required by law;

(6) Provision prohibiting a state agency or department, including law enforcement, to use funds or resources to investigate or assist in the enforcement of any registration or surveillance programs or any other laws that target Washington residents solely on the basis of a protected class, or immigration or citizenship status; and

(7) The emergency clause.
