Background:

During an emergency, a local jurisdiction may request a state mobilization when it needs assistance beyond the capabilities of local resources and mutual aid agreements.

"Mobilization" means that risk resources beyond those available through existing agreements will be requested and, when available, sent in response to an emergency or disaster situation that has exceeded the capabilities of available local resources. During a large scale emergency, mobilization includes the redistribution of regional or statewide risk resources to either direct emergency incident assignments or to assignments in communities where resources are needed.

"Risk resources" means those resources regularly provided by fire departments, fire districts, and regional fire protection authorities required to respond to incidents, including, but not limited to, wild land fires, landslides, earthquakes, floods, and contagious diseases.

The Chief of the Washington State Patrol (WSP) has the authority to mobilize jurisdictions under the Washington State Fire Services Mobilization Plan. The purpose of the mobilization plan is to provide a mechanism and process to quickly notify, assemble, and deploy fire service personnel and equipment to any local fire jurisdiction in Washington that has expended or will expend all available local and mutual aid resources in attempting to manage fires, disasters, or other events that jeopardize the ability of a jurisdiction to provide for the protection of life and property. The State Fire Marshal in the WSP serves as the state fire resources coordinator when the state mobilization plan is mobilized.

Summary of Bill:

All risk resources may be requested and sent in preparation of an emergency or when an emergency is predicted to exceed local capabilities.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on January 15, 2020.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) Washington's mobilization plan is one of the most used in the country, but it has a flaw that requires local resources to be exhausted before help can be deployed. Local governments are on the front lines of emergency response and have limited resources. This bill would allow mobilization to occur before local resources are overwhelmed. This bill is mostly applicable to wildfires because other emergencies, such as earthquakes, are not predictable, but we know when and where wildfires are likely to occur. The best time to fight a fire is when it starts, not three or four days later. There is a cost to position equipment, but contingency costs are built into the state budget. This bill would prevent additional costs and damage and save money in the long run.

(Opposed) None.
