

SB 5399 - DIGEST

Requires the court, in determining whether to restrict a parent's right to relocate with a child or in determining a modification of the court order based on the proposed relocation, to make a determination in the best interests of the child considering certain factors.