Background:

Authority of the Fish and Wildlife Commission and Department of Fish and Wildlife.

The Fish and Wildlife Commission (Commission) operates under a statutory mandate to preserve, protect, perpetuate, and manage Washington's wildlife, food fish, game fish, and shellfish. The Department of Fish and Wildlife (Department) has been delegated the responsibility to carry out this mandate at the direction of the Commission, which includes establishing basic rules and regulations governing the time, place, manner, and methods used to harvest or enjoy fish and wildlife.

As a part of this responsibility, the Department issues various licensing documents, including licenses, tags, endorsements, and permits for hunting and fishing in Washington. Certain hunting and fishing licenses and permits come with a vehicle access pass that allow the license or permit holder to access Department lands.

Fishing Licenses.

In order to fish in Washington, individuals age 15 and older must purchase a fishing license. Categories of fishing licenses include freshwater licenses, saltwater licenses, catch record cards, and annual and temporary combination licenses. There are several endorsements, stamps, permits, or other surcharges required for particular activities in addition to a fishing license. Fee amounts for fishing licenses, stamps, permits, and endorsements are set in statute with separate rates for state residents, nonresidents, and youth age 15. Temporary combination fishing licenses are not valid for the opening day of the lowland lake fishing season, unless the license holder is an active-duty resident military personnel.

Hunter Education.

There are separate hunting licenses and endorsements for big game, small game, and certain other species for both general season hunting and special hunts. There are separate rates for state residents, nonresidents, and youth under age 16, and those amounts are set in statute.

All individuals born after January 1, 1972, must show proof of completion of a hunter education course before purchasing a hunting license for the first time. The course must include at least 10 hours of instruction covering firearms and outdoor safety, hunter responsibility, and wildlife management. To receive proof of completion a person must pass an exam, either in a classroom setting or online, and demonstrate safe firearms handling skills in the field. Members of the United States military and certain current or retired law enforcement officers who complete the online hunter education course are exempt from the field firearms skills portion.

Reduced Rate Licenses.

Certain hunting and fishing licenses are available at reduced rates to certain disabled veterans, and individuals with disabilities. State residents who meet the criteria may receive a fishing license for $5 and any of the various state hunting licenses for the price that is charged to a youth participant for that license. Nonstate residents may purchase a license at the same prices as a nondisabled Washington resident. To qualify for these reduced rates, the individual must:

- be an honorably discharged veteran who:
 - is at least 65 years old and who has a service-related disability of any kind; or
 - is of any age and who has a 30 percent or greater service-related disability; or
- regardless of military service, has a disability that results in the permanent use of a wheelchair, or blindness or another visual impairment; or
- has a developmental disability.

Summary of Bill:

Authority of the Fish and Wildlife Commission and Department of Fish and Wildlife.

The Fish and Wildlife Commission (Commission) may create and sell combination licenses spanning one or more license years for all hunting and fishing activities at or below the total cost of individual licenses included in the package, and the Director of the Department of Fish and Wildlife (Director) may offer temporary discounted promotional pricing to increase participation in fishing, hunting, or wildlife viewing.

Fishing Licenses.

The youth age for the purposes of acquiring a fishing license is changed from age 15 to under age 16. Youth fishing license fees and the family fishing weekend license are eliminated. A temporary combination fishing license may be used for the opening day of the lowland lake fishing season. Vehicle access passes may be issued to a person who purchases a current valid personal use shellfish and seaweed license.

Hunter Education.

The requirement for those born after January 1, 1972, to complete 10 hours of hunter safety instruction is modified to remove the 10-hour requirement. Hunters born after January 1, 1972, would still be required to complete hunter safety instruction. Current or retired members of the United States (U.S.) military and current or retired peace officers are exempt from the firearms skills portion of online hunter education courses.

The ability for the Director to authorize a once in a lifetime, one license-year deferral of hunter education training for individuals who are accompanied by a nondeferred Washington-licensed hunter is modified as follows:

- The requirement that the licensed hunter has held a license for the prior three years is removed.
- The license holder must be at least, rather than over, 18 years of age.

The Commission may offer a one-time hunting license discount of up to $20 for first-time resident hunters who have completed the Washington hunter education program.

Reduced Rate Licenses.

Certain residency and reduced-rate license provisions are modified so the following additional individuals qualify for state resident hunting and fishing license rates:

- active-duty members of the U.S. military, their spouses, and their children under age 18;
- nonstate residents who are full-time post-secondary students enrolled at a college or university in Washington, their spouses, and their children under age 18; and
- the spouses and children under age 18 of nonstate residents who qualify for resident rates due to a military service-connected disability or developmental disability.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) This bill is a hodgepodge of changes to various licensing provisions to address several complaints and suggestions the Department of Fish and Wildlife (Department) has received. The goals of this legislation are to reduce costs slightly, ensure the public has a better experience with the agency, and to improve youth outreach. There is a small fiscal impact that the Department can absorb. The lowland lakes season is very popular, and this would allow temporary combination licenses to be used for the opening day of the season.

(Opposed) None.

Persons Testifying: Tom McBride, Department of Fish and Wildlife.

Persons Signed In To Testify But Not Testifying: None.
